BIOGRAPHY

Acclaimed for its “bold interpretive strength, robust characterization and commanding resonance” (Calgary Herald), the VERONA QUARTET has firmly established itself amongst the most distinguished ensembles on the chamber music scene today. The group’s singular sense of purpose most recently earned them Chamber Music America’s coveted 2020 Cleveland Quartet Award and a reputation as an “outstanding ensemble...cohesive yet full of temperament” (The New York Times). The quartet serves on the faculty of the Oberlin College and Conservatory as the quartet-in-residence, in addition to holding residences at the Lunenburg Academy of Music Performance, Indiana University Summer String Academy and North Carolina’s Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle.

The Verona Quartet has appeared across four continents, enchanting audiences at venues such as Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, the Kennedy Center, Library of Congress, Jordan Hall, Wigmore Hall and Melbourne Recital Hall. The quartet has performed at festivals including La Jolla Summerfest, Chamber Music Northwest, Caramoor and Bravo! Vail, and with the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center.

Drawing from the mentorship of the esteemed Cleveland, Juilliard and Pacifica quartets, the Verona Quartet’s rapid rise to international prominence was fueled by top prize wins at the Wigmore Hall, Melbourne, M-Prize and Osaka International Chamber Music competitions. Their debut album, “Diffusion,” featuring works by Janáček, Ravel and Szymanowski, was released on Azica Records in June 2021. Their second album, “SHATTER,” will showcase the works of American composers Julia Adolphe, Michael Gilbertson and Reena Esmail, in collaboration with Hindustani vocalist Saili Oak.

The ensemble’s “thoughtful, impressive” (Cleveland Classical) performances emanate from the spirit of storytelling; the name “Verona” pays tribute to William Shakespeare, one of the greatest storytellers of all time.
OSKAR ESPINA-RUIZ is associate professor of clarinet at the University of North Carolina School of the Arts. Described by the press as a “masterful soloist” (La Nación, Costa Rica) and a “highly expressive clarinetist” (Nevskoye Vremia, Russia), he has performed at major concert halls and festivals to high critical acclaim, including concerto performances at the Philharmonic Hall in St. Petersburg, Russia, and recitals in New York City, Washington DC, Moscow, Madrid, Tokyo, Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong. Espina-Ruiz has appeared as soloist with the St. Petersburg State Academic Symphony (Russia), St. Petersburg Chamber Philharmonic (Russia), Orquesta Sinfónica de la Ciudad de Asunción (Paraguay) and Bilbao Symphony (Spain). His chamber music collaborations include the American, Argus, Ariel, Cassatt, Daedalus, Escher, Shanghai and Verona quartets, the Quintet of the Americas, pianists Benjamin Hochman, Ursula Oppens and Anthony Newman, and Metropolitan Opera Orchestra artists. He has recorded for the Bridge, Kobaltone and Prion labels, receiving high critical acclaim by fellow clarinetists Richard Stoltzman and Charles Neidich for his solo recording “Julián Menéndez Rediscovered.” He holds a Doctor of Musical Arts from Stony Brook University.
DEAN’S COUNCILS FOR UNCSA

The Dean’s Councils support each of UNCSA’s five arts schools – Dance, Design & Production, Drama, Filmmaking, and Music. Dean’s Council members support the school of their choosing with an annual gift of $5,000 or more, work closely with the Dean to advance that school’s mission and fundraising priorities, and enjoy a deeper relationship with the Dean and students of the school. If you are interested in joining one of these groups of committed individuals, please contact Interim Vice Chancellor for Advancement Rich Whittington at 336-770-3330 or whittingtonr@uncsa.edu.

THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The School of Music gives talented young artists the opportunity to perfect their musical talent and prepare for life as professional musicians. Our training includes both private instruction and public performance experience, including more than 150 recitals and concerts presented each year. This performance experience, combined with career development opportunities and studies in music theory, literature and style, provides the ultimate training to help young musicians grow as both artists and professionals.

UNCSA MANIFESTO

We Believe

Artists enrich our culture, enlighten our society, lift our spirits, and feed our souls.
Integrative arts education from an early age sparks a lifetime of creative thinking, powerful self-expression, and innovative problem solving.
Rigorous artistic training empowers our students and graduates to engage our communities, advance local and global creative industries, and inspire the world.

Arts organizations improve the quality of life and place in big cities and small communities, transforming them from merely livable to truly lovable.

UNC School of the Arts nurtures the talent, hones the craft, and develops the unique voices of emerging artists. We realize the full potential of exceptionally creative and passionate students to do their best work and become their best selves.
UPCOMING PERFORMANCES

“Indecent” by Paula Vogel
October 28-30 & November 4-6, 2021 • 7:30 p.m.
October 31, 2021 • 2 p.m.
Catawba Theatre

“Indecent,” by Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Paula Vogel, is a deeply moving play inspired by the true events surrounding the controversial 1923 Broadway debut of Sholem Asch’s “God of Vengeance” that depicted the first lesbian kiss on a Broadway stage. The producer and cast of Asch's play were arrested and convicted on the grounds of obscenity. “Indecent,” which won two Tony Awards, charts the history of this incendiary drama and the path of the artists who risked their careers and lives to perform it. The work is Acadia Barregos' fourth-year directing thesis. Director's note: recommended for mature audiences.

Matthew Vaughn, Trombonist in Concert
Tuesday, November 2, 2021 • 7:30 p.m.
Watson Chamber Music Hall

Matthew Vaughn, co-principal trombonist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, performs works from the trombone repertoire, including compositions by Camille Saint-Saëns, Johannes Brahms, Sergei Prokofiev and Antonio Vivaldi.

UNCSA Wind Ensemble and Chamber Winds:
Inspiration, Imitation and Flattery
Friday, November 5, 2021 • 7:30 p.m.
Stevens Center for the Performing Arts
Mark. A Norman, music director and conductor
Karen Ni Bhroin, guest conductor
Timothy Heath, graduate conductor
Jaren Atherholt, oboe

Premier ensembles of selected high school, undergraduate and graduate students, the Wind Ensemble and Chamber Winds perform “Pantomime,” which composer Gary Carpenter describes as “the shadowy and half-forgotten world of smoky music halls, vaudeville, burlesque, and their later, often televisual incarnations.”
